

ACTION EXPECTED THIS SESSION ON BONE-DRY DISTRICT

"I expect to get action at this session of Congress."

This was the statement of Senator Sheppard, of Texas, today with reference to his new "bone dry" bill for the District of Columbia, introduced in the Senate and referred to the District of Columbia committee.

Senator Sheppard said he had previously offered a similar bill which had gone to the Postoffice Committee. He did not expect that committee to act and did expect favorable and prompt action from the District Committee.

Inasmuch as the bill of Senator Sheppard is simply to apply the provisions of the Reed "bone dry" amendment to the District and that amendment was put on the postoffice legislation in the last Congress, Senator Sheppard may attempt to filibuster the bill when it comes up in the Senate.

He does not rely on this, however, for he realizes that a point of order might be raised against it and sustained.

Senator Sheppard does expect to be able to bring his bill to a vote in the Senate this session as a separate measure. The bill has the backing of the Anti-Saloon League and other organizations that are stirred up over importation of liquor from Baltimore and other places close by.

'COMMUNITY SING' ON SUNDAY

Strains of patriotic songs and anthems in the community "sing" to be held Sunday afternoon in the Central High School auditorium will be augmented by 200 voices of the Liberty Male Chorus and glee clubs of the District division of the Patriotic League who have volunteered. Another feature will be the singing of the Anti-Saloon League and other organizations that are stirred up over importation of liquor from Baltimore and other places close by.

INDIANA BECOMES DRY TODAY; NEW LAW IN ONTARIO

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 3.—Quietly and with practically no variation from normal activities, Indiana today became bone dry. The law was enacted by the last legislature.

DOES NOT STOP SHIPMENTS.

TORONTO, Ontario, April 3.—Under a ruling just announced, shipments of liquor that were in the hands of the express companies at the time the new prohibition law became effective yesterday may be continued to their destination. This means that shipments of liquor may pass through dry territory if necessary to reach the consignee.

ILLINOIS HOLDS ELECTION.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Prohibitionists are elated today over their gains in yesterday's elections in several towns of Illinois. Of the larger cities of the State, Bloomington gave a dry majority of 2,119, which was credited to the dry vote of the women.

DRYS WIN IN MASSACHUSETTS.

BOSTON, April 3.—The Massachusetts legislature has ratified the dry amendment to the Constitution and the Bay State takes her place as one of the Federal States in the nation to favor the Federal law, and the first of the Northeastern States to fall into line.

JACK FROST ENDS LIFE OF FORMER SLAVE, AGE 106

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for the oldest man ever admitted to Washington Asylum Hospital, so far as records show.

He was Charles E. Smith, colored, 106, who died yesterday at the institution to which he was taken February 13. Smith succumbed to gangrenous infection of both feet, the result of their becoming frost-bitten last winter while he was living at Blue Plains, Va.

Born in the year when Great Britain, now our ally, was making her second attempt to crush the youthful Tanqueray state, Smith had lived through such stirring events as the fall of Napoleon Bonaparte, the promulgation of the Monroe doctrine, the Mexican-American war, the reconstruction, and the growth of the United States to one of the great powers. All these things, however, had little meaning in his simple life. For years he was a slave, and he told the hospital authorities tales of "befo" de wath' times, when not in too much suffering.

Smith made a fight for life remarkable for one of his years according to physicians at the hospital. Frequent visitors at his bedside were the Rev. William J. Howard, of Zion Baptist Church, who will read the funeral service, and two nieces living in Washington.

PLAN D. C. CHAPTER OF GRAND RAPIDS PEOPLE

Residents of Grand Rapids, Mich., have been attracted to Washington in such large numbers as a result of the war that they are considering organization of a permanent Grand Rapids War Society. Hardly a department of the Government but has some technical or professional experts, clerks or stenographers from the War Department.

Many officers and enlisted men in the army, navy or marine corps from the Michigan city are stationed in or near the Capital. Plans are now being made for the holding of a preliminary round-up or social meeting. The date and place of meeting will be announced later. All former Grand Rapids residents, whether brought here by the war or not, have been asked to send their names to the Grand Rapids War Society committee, 927 Colorado building.

Coming to Theaters Next Week

"The Laughter of Poles," a comedy by H. F. Matthy that kept London laughing for several months at the Prince of Wales Theatre, not long ago, will be presented by David Belasco and Charles Frohman at the National next week before it goes to New York. The annual David Belasco Charles Frohman production has now become an established institution, and is looked forward to as one of the "to be" events of the theatrical season. For this year's presentation, an exceptionally strong company has been organized with William Sampson, Miss Peggy O'Neill, Miss Beryl Mercer, Max Leeds, Percy Marmont, Patsy Bush, Katherine Stewart, and Gladys Wynne in the leading parts.

REBELS.

"Love of Mike," the joint production of Miss Elizabeth Marbury and Lee Shubert, will be the attraction at the Belasco Theatre beginning next Sunday. The music is by Jerome Kern, the lyrics by Harry E. Smith, and the book by Thomas Sydney.

"Love of Mike" ran for thirty-nine weeks in New York, twelve weeks in Boston, which comes to Washington after a highly successful season in Chicago. George Hassell, the comedian, is the featured player. He represents a movie-truck butler who must give to his passion for excitement, even to the extent of robbing the house in which he worked. The particularly clever comedy includes: Leone Morgan, Helen Clark, Stella May Hoben, Luella Sear, Claire Stratton, Ruth Mabey, Hilda Pentland, Harry Vincent, a well-known English comedian, Clifton Webb, Richard Hall, Easton Yonge, Alan Edwards, and others.

R. F. KEITH'S.

Three starliners will top the R. F. Keith Theatre bill next week. Eliza, Belle Brice will appear alone in a feature of trills, frolics, and songs. The famous American actor, Robert Edison, and company, in "Pearl," a comedy of crookology. Bessie Clayton, the premiere dancer, will be supported by Stanley Noon and the Most-Comed Brothers.

Jack Wilson, the blackface farceur, with a new array of assisting funniness: Moon and Morris, the famous American actor, Robert Edison, and company, in "Pearl," a comedy of crookology. Bessie Clayton, the premiere dancer, will be supported by Stanley Noon and the Most-Comed Brothers.

Jack Wilson, the blackface farceur, with a new array of assisting funniness: Moon and Morris, the famous American actor, Robert Edison, and company, in "Pearl," a comedy of crookology. Bessie Clayton, the premiere dancer, will be supported by Stanley Noon and the Most-Comed Brothers.
